Name: NIKE AIR JORDAN1 RETRO HIGH OG STAGE HAZE

Description: The Air Jordan 1 Retro High OG 'Stage Haze' features neutral tones on the foundational sneaker that started it all. The upper combines a white leather base with a grey suede heel overlay and a forefoot overlay in cracked black leather. Matching black accents settle on the signature Swoosh and a retro Wings logo stamped on the lateral ankle. Nike branding is outlined in Bleached Coral on the woven tongue tag, delivering a subtle flash of color. The high-top rests on a rubber cupsole that pairs white sidewalls with a grey rubber outsole.

IMAGE 3

Name: NIKE AIR JORDAN4 MILITARY BLACK

Description: The Air Jordan 4 Retro 'Military Black' showcases the same color blocking and materials featured on the OG 'Military Blue' colorway from 1989. Smooth white leather is utilized on the upper, bolstered with a forefoot overlay in grey suede. Contrasting black accents make their way to the TPU eyelets, molded heel tab, and the Jumpman logo displayed on the woven tongue tag. Lightweight cushioning comes courtesy of a two-tone polyurethane midsole, enhanced with a visible Air-sole unit under the heel.

Name: NIKE AIR JORDAN1 MID ELEPHANT PRINT

Description: The AJ1 Mid has an all-black suede base, matching the laces. The overlays are grey, but the toe cap and mudguard have the titular Elephant Print while the foxing has a tumbled leather finish. Contrasting white profile Swooshes sweep across both sides of the shoe. A black “Wings” logo is stamped on the grey collar flap while a striking red Jumpman stands out against a black nylon tongue. A pure white midsole and a light grey rubber outsole cap off the shoe’s design.

IMAGE 5

Name: NIKE AIR JORDAN1 MID SE GREY GREEN

Description: The Air Jordan 1 Mid SE ‘Grey Pine Green’ showcases lush accents on a classic silhouette modeled after the 1985 original. White leather is utilized on the upper, fortified with grey suede overlays and accented with a grassy green Swoosh. The latter hue is repeated on the sneaker’s branding elements, including a woven Jumpman tongue tag, metallic lace jewels and the retro Wings logo stamped on the lateral ankle. A durable rubber cupsole, featuring encapsulated Air-sole cushioning and a green rubber outsole, anchors the mid-top.

IMAGE 6

Name: NIKE AIR JORDAN1 LOW GS SLATE BLUE NAVY

Description: Some may liken these to the Dunk High “Storm” that dropped back in 1999, as its cool tones are similar to what’s found here on this AJ1 Low. The lighter of the two shades is more frequently used, dressing the toe, eye stays, collar, and heel; a darker navy, then, sits adjacent, marking the tongue, Swoosh, and lining. Unlike the aforementioned Dunk, this pair incorporates a white leather base and matching Wings embroidery, balancing out the more unique color blocking with a more familiar foundation.

Name: ADIDAS YEEZY BOOST 350 V2 GLOW IN THE DARK

Description: Regarded as a cultural phenomenon, the adidas Yeezy Boost 350 silhouette generated a cult following when it was initially released in 2015. This ‘Glow’ makeover—released in May 2019—equips the Primeknit upper with a high-visibility treatment and a translucent stripe to the lateral profile. Integrated lacing and a coordinating heel pull provide easy on/off. Underfoot, the signature full-length Boost midsole looks to the future with a bright glow in the dark finish.

IMAGE 9

Name: ADIDAS YEEZY BOOST 700 V3 DARK GLOW

Description: The Adidas Yeezy 700 V3 'Dark Glow' features a black engineered mesh upper with charcoal accents and smoky RPU overlays — a neutral design that's virtually identical to the 'Alvah' colorway from April 2020. The key difference centers around the sneaker's glow-in-the-dark RPU cage, which emits a blue luminescence versus the older shoe's green-tinged glow. Lightweight cushioning arrives via a solid black EVA midsole with an encapsulated polyurethane core. Underfoot, a herringbone-traction rubber outsole delivers superior grip.

Name: ADIDAS YEEZY BOOST 700 MNVN BLUE TINT

Description: The adidas Yeezy Boost 700 MNVN 'Blue Tint' applies an especially vibrant hue to the lightweight polyester upper, secured with no-tie bungee laces and enlivened with reflective accents, including oversized 700 branding on the lateral side panel. Contrasting black hits make their way to the collar lining, tongue and reinforced no-sew overlays at the toe and heel. The seamless build rides on a sculpted black polyurethane midsole, enhanced with full-length drop-in Boost cushioning.

Name: ADIDAS YEEZY 500 SOFT VISION INFANT

Description: The adidas Yeezy 500 Infant sneaker is a mix of retro inspiration and progressive design. Revealed in November 2019, this iteration expresses a Soft Vision palette in mesh, cow suede and premium leather with reflective piping around the eyelets. Its tonal mudguard offers abrasion resistance. A matching midsole imbued with Adiprene+ cushioning attenuates shock while the gum rubber outsole provides grip.

IMAGE 12

Name: ADIDAS YEEZY 450 DARK SLATE

Description: The adidas Yeezy 450 'Dark Slate' delivers a blacked-out iteration of Kanye West's boundary-pushing silhouette. Stripped of color and exterior branding, the knit upper is secured with an integrated lacing system and topped with an elastic, sock-like cuff. In lieu of a traditional midsole, the rubber outsole sprouts tapered appendages that wrap up the heel and side panels of the deconstructed build, providing support and enhanced durability within its grasp.

IMAGE 13

Name: ADIDAS YEEZY BOOST V2 CMPCT RED SLATE

Description: The adidas Yeezy Boost 350 V2 CMPCT 'Slate Red' dresses the lifestyle sneaker in a saturated crimson hue that has become something of a design signature for Kanye West. The engineered Primeknit upper showcases an abstract woven pattern and a lacing system reminiscent of the Yeezy 450. Unlike the original 350 V2, this iteration features an elastic cuff for a snug, sock-like fit. Responsive cushioning is provided by a full-length Boost midsole, enveloped in a dark red rubber cage and supported by a color-matched rubber outsole.
